1.	ToR	We would kindly ask whether the Contracting Authority would accept a tandem arrangement for the Team Leader position, i.e. the position being filled jointly by two experts. If acceptable, our technical offer would set out in detail how responsibilities and working days are divided between the two experts, as well as the arrangements ensuring a single point of contact and continuity of leadership.	Yes, this is possible.
2.	ToR	In the description of Task WP2b we read: "(..) based on the results of WP3 and Task a from WP2.". Is this correct or should it be "(..) based on the results of WP1 and Task a from WP2."	The description in the ToR is correct. As stipulated in the ToR, the methodology developed in WP1 shall be applied and implemented through WP3. In that way, the results of WP1 are to be contained in and advanced through the results from WP3, which shall all be used for the elaboration of WP2b.

3.	ToR	From the terms of reference, we conclude that four trips are planned in principle. However, it is not clear to us whether - TL and KE1 will travel together to both destination countries in July 2027 to conjointly take part in two separate on-site workshops (with different target groups) per country - or - TL and KE1 will each travel twice, independently of one another, each to one of the selected countries.	There are no specific requirements or conditions for travel organisation beyond the stipulations in the ToR. Both joint and separate travel are possible if the travel organisation and distribution of responsibilities and tasks for the delivery of the workshops are in accordance with 4. Personnel concept and the travel days stipulated under 5. Costing requirements.
4.	ToR	It is unclear to us, whether the Capacity Building Expert (NKE1) is foreseen (A) for WP4 only or also (B) for the "capacity building measures for the agricultural cooperatives and/or farmer organisation" of WP3. Given, that no travel is foreseen for this expert, we assume (A) applies.	The expert foreseen to deliver WP4 shall focus on WP4 only.
